

Nomadic Space is an infrastructure based on plug-in units. Each participant can create his own desirable space, freely move and communicate with other participants. The system provides endless variable situations of social relations; A spatial playground for the 'Homo Ludens'.

